

IRISH TRADITIONS

Fine Gifts in the Celtic Tradition

The original Great Kilt was made from wool, often grown on one's own sheep. It measured approximately 9 yards of fabric and when one wanted a full kilt, he would order "the whole nine yards."

Today's kilts are much more refined and Irish Traditions is proud to feature kilts made by the internationally renowned House of Edgar, located in Perth, Scotland.

Our rental kilts are made of four yards of 13 ounce fabric woven to the highest standard. This style of kilt is a perfect to ensure comfort in our climate.
